African World Festival – Update

Big thanks !!!!!!!!!!!!! to Julie Baker, Shirley Phillips Horn, Jacqueline Diamond Hall, Karla and Bill Middlebrooks and Harold Bunkley. It was a long night but we got it done.

Additional THANKS to all of the volunteers during the 36th African World Festival!!!

And to the teachers, you Rock!!! It was the museum request that people could say I learned to quilt at the Charles H Wright museum, taught by GLAAQN quilters.

GLAAQN's, you made it a reality. Love you all!!!

Carolyn Bunkley

Lunch Update – September and November

There will be no lunch in September or November due to prior engagements by our wonderful Patricia Millender. She has supplies that she can provide to anyone that volunteers to handle lunch for these two meetings. Contact Patricia Millender at 313-418-9757 if you can stand in for her at either meeting.

I would like to thank all of the volunteers that assisted at the African American World Festival. I want to thank you Carolyn Bunkley for chairing this event, and your teachers who taught the classes. You all did a fantastic job. You did something new and different with the classes and Great Lakes sewing machines.

I also want to thank Kaye Whittington and Wanda Nash for chairing the State Fair event. Membership volunteered to set up and participate in this event. These events take all of us to make them a success and at all of these events our membership show up and get the job done. We couldn't do these events without all of you. Thank you.

Fall is approaching fast and as quilter's we begin to collect projects and things to do during our winter hibernation.

The Grand Rapids AQS quilt show was the beginning of this quilter's tradition.

I want to thank all of the ladies that joined us on that bus trip. We had members and friends join us. Some of the friends enjoyed themselves and the fellowship so much that they will be joining us. We had a great time, so rowdy that we even got pull over by the police. You would have to have been there to understand that.

Our next adventure is in Chicago. We are going to Chicago in October to enjoy and fellowship with the Chicago's Needles & Threads Quilt Guild and to get a taste of downtown Chicago. If you are considering going, you should act now because there are only a few seats available. I'm sure we will have get stories to tell and get quilt items to show.

Veterans Quilt A Thon Update

A big bushel of thanks to those ladies who attended our Veterans Quilt A Thon in August. We had lots of fun and made a bunch of quilt tops. Most of the tops are being quilted as we speak with some of them ready for binding. Many thanks to the members who took kits home to complete tops. We are well on our way to having 20 finished quilts for our veterans. Thanks to Sharon Ray and April Shipp who served lunch so that we were able to be fortified at the meeting. If you still have a top or veterans quilt in your possession, please contact Wanda Nash as soon as possible so that I can get an accurate count. If you are available to do bindings when the quilts come from the quilters, please let me know. Thanks again – Wanda Nash

Thank you for the quilt!

I just wanted to say how much I and my family are enjoying the quilt you sent down for Harvey victims. I was fortunate to have received one and have fallen in love with it. Thank you for thinking of our community. My apologies for taking so, so long to write a thank you. I received it in February. And it really has gone a long way to comfort us. With gratitude, David Falloure

On the road with Patricia Millender

While traveling in North Carolina I found the most fabulous African Fabric store with Dutch Wax prints. They sell 5", 10" and 2 1/2" x42 strips. They were wonderful people and I know you would enjoy doing business with them. Let them know I referred you.

The Baxter Community Center's Threads Sewing Class proudly presents the 4th Biennial Quilt Show.

This exclusive Quilt Show Event features excellent historical and personal stories. This year's Quilt Show Event's theme is "A Stitch in Time; Every Quilt Has a Story." The exhibition will feature unique stories of the lives of women in the Thread class. The quilt story theme will be presented in a variety of topics by Quilters who share their respective lives and historical perspectives on a variety of topics. The stories vary from the 1940s up to the present day. Including National stories like the "March on Washington" to local stories like the "Grand Rapids Logan Street Ladies".

Fiber arts including African Kente patterns pave the way for the creation of vibrant colors. Highly intricate patterns all showcasing a rich tapestry of combined works through different quilt mediums.

The Threads Program Quilters are excited to share their stories with the community. We invite everyone interested in joining and being part of this highly anticipated 2018 Quilt Show Event which will be held on Friday and Saturday, September 14 and 15 at the Baxter Community Center Gym, 935 Baxter St. SW , Grand Rapids, MI from 11:00 to 5:00 pm.

Ann Arbor Quilt Show Observations

Members of GLAAQN turned out to see the Ann Arbor (GAAQG) quilt show July 28-29. It was great seeing so many familiar faces. There were many fine quilts, and a wide array of vendors, including Wanda Nash with her batik fabrics. The quilts in the main gallery were thoughtfully curated/hung by our own Kaye Whittington; each pair of facing quilts complimented each other. Some were on the same theme or design or color array. Others juxtaposed contrasting treatments, e.g. modern and traditional treatments of a theme. Many of the quilts had various levels of embellishment, ranging from a few discrete beads or buttons, to crazy quilts, to a wool quilt almost entirely covered with intricate applique, embroidery, and beading. There were also a number of quilts using fused applique. Some were Laura Heine patterns, a rooster, a turtle, and a butterfly/flower; others were originals. I was also impressed by quilts that used a relatively simple repeating pattern, but achieved elegance and impact through carefully chosen fabrics emphasizing color and texture, thoughtful arrangement, and meticulous piecing. Of note, all the quilts in the two long side corridors were charity quilts, ready to be donated to the Safe House Domestic Violence Project. Many of these quilts could just as easily have hung in the main galleries.

Henry Rachmiel

A guild member told me that after each meeting, they have a sew-in, and small groups work together as teams to cut and sew these fine quilts. Perhaps we could display more of our charity quilts during show and tell, to appreciate and inspire each other in our charity quilt efforts. There were other interesting special displays. In one of them, several quilters were given the same photograph to use as the inspiration for a small quilt. Then each of the quilts was given to another quilter to use for inspiration for another quilt. And those quilts became the inspiration for yet more quilts. It was sort of a quilt "telephone" process, with each quilter another link in the sequence. Overall, the show was an inspiration and a challenge.

Circle Quilt Adventures

Quilters in the circle quilt class in June represented all levels. Kudo's to the beginners that tackled such a challenging project. You showed tenacity, commitment and enthusiasm as you learned a new technique with the 45 degree wedge ruler. Here is a sampling of the quilts and their creators. We can definitely expect to be dazzled, as members complete and show their projects.
